WESLEYAN RESERVES DEFEAT GLENVILLE

Harrison, Former Washington-Irving High School Player, Stars for Wesleyan.

BUCKHANNON, Oct. 23.—Wesleyan Reserves defeated Glenville normal at college field today by a score of 27 to 0. In the first quarter the scrubs seemed to score at will making three touchdowns in the first few minutes of play. Glenville then braced up and there was no more scoring till the last quarter, when Morrison ran thirty-five yards through the entire Glenville team for a touchdown.

The offensive work of Harrison and Smith was also a feature of the game. Time after time they made runs for ten and fifteen yards. On defense, Dean, Harrison and Swan stood out the most. For Glenville, Wiant, Ralston and Atomey were the best in both offensive and defensive. Glenville came near scoring in the last quarter, when Wiant and McCue got away with two forward passes for twenty-five yards each. On account of the chilly weather the crowd was very small.

Wesleyan Reserves—27	Glenville—0

Goals from touchdowns—Smith 3 out of 4. Time of quarters—12 minutes. Referee—Grimm; Umpire—Hymes; Linesman—Ross.

Beck, Wesleyan Halfback.

The reports of every game in which Wesleyan has taken part have detailed accounts of the great work of this new man from Bellaire, O., high school. He is fast and aggressive and experienced and has been playing a sensational game in every department. He is expected to do much for Wesleyan here against Washington and Jefferson November 13, as well as against Carlisle at Wheeling next week.

CHALMERS PLANT HAS AN ELABORATE WELFARE SYSTEM

Over 30,000 Square Feet of Floor Space in Plant is Devoted to System.

When Miss Ida Tarbell, well known writer and investigator, visited Detroit recently on a tour of modern factories, she gave unstinted praise to the welfare plans and sanitation systems in vogue at the big Chalmers plant.

A completely equipped emergency hospital under the direction of three physicians and a trained nurse, comfortable rest rooms for the women employes, and the most modern of sanitation systems were among the items commented favorably upon by Miss Tarbell, who is at present writing a series of factory articles for a monthly magazine.

For the comfort of the women and girls who earn a living at the Chalmers plant, an admirable suite of rest rooms has been provided and placed in charge of a competent matron. The matron's duties are not limited to factory hours but extend to night visits to the homes of sick women employes and the selection of suitable rooming and boarding places for the girls under her charge. Few women's clubs are fitted out with better taste or more completely than the Chalmers rest rooms. Comfortable couches and easy chairs, soft rugs, cut flowers and potted plants all form part of the equipment. Each room has a Victrola and records ranging from the latest for trot to the finest selections from grand opera sung by Caruso, Farrar and other artists.

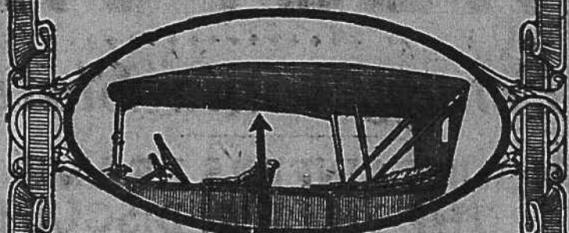

Physicians' Service Free. Over 3,000 feet of valuable floor space in the Chalmers plant is given up in this way to rest rooms and physicians' offices. The latter adjunct includes a perfectly appointed hospital for the treatment of emergency cases and the services of two physicians and a surgeon. As a prevention against the spread of contagious disease, each new employe is given a thorough physical examination before going to work in the factory. Card records are kept of medical treatment given employes, all of which is entirely free. The equipment of the physicians' office is complete down to the last detail and includes a pulmotor, which is at the service of the entire eastern section of Detroit.

Not content with the treatment of employes' ill, Chalmers officials have installed a sanitation system which will go far toward eliminating any unhealthy conditions which may exist in the factory. The system was put into operation after a series of exhaustive tests made in various departments of the Chalmers factory by Dr. Boyce W. Knight, famous bacteriologist of London, England. Starting at 6 p. m. two men, under the direction of the head of the sanitation department spend each night thoroughly spraying the walls, floors and ceilings of the many departments with a disinfecting solution. As a result of this policy, each morning finds every corner of the big Chalmers plant spotlessly clean and free from all germs.

Through W. E. Bradley, head of the welfare department, the Chalmers company has taken an active part in the national movement toward increasing the number of naturalized citizens among factory employes. As a knowledge of the English language is the first essential step toward citizenship, steps were taken to have all the non-English speaking factory employes attend the free night school. Sixty-one per cent of the unemployed that applied at the Detroit board of commerce last winter could not speak English and although the proportion is not as high in the automobile factories, nevertheless many employes are handicapped by their ignorance of the language. Over ninety per cent of the foreigners working in the Chalmers plant signified their intention of going to night school when informed of the location of the various schools. A record is kept of those attending and the progress they are making.

Since the first establishment of the Chalmers plant, the factory executives have been ardent supporters of safety first principles. Three men devote their entire time to visiting factory departments, suggesting and making improvements in the safe guarding of dangerous machinery and eliminating dangerous practices on the part of employes. Records kept by Manager Bradley show that, due to the extra precautions taken in the Chalmers plant, accidents have decreased 70.3 per cent during the last two years.

TEN PIN MATCH

Will Be Rolled by Wheeling and Local Team on the Gore Bowling Alleys.

Barring accidents on next Friday night, Oct. 29, lovers of the bowling game will be treated by seeing three of Wheeling's crack ten-pin bowlers up against the home boys.

Wheeling's team will be composed of that well known and expert bowler, Mr. Stevenson, with Messrs Ennis and Frazier, two of Mr. Stevenson's boys that can hit the head pin most any old time.

The game will be rolled in the Gore alleys and Carl Knapp, manager of the alleys is leaving no stones unturned in order to provide good views and comfortable seats for those present. Ladies are especially invited to see these games.

The local team will be composed of Drake, Thompson and Ours. It can be said of "Daddy" Drake, as he is commonly known, that his bowling can be classed second to none in the state. Thompson, while comparatively young in age, is an old bowler and will give a good account of himself.

Ours at the present time is the city ten pin champion and has held this honor for a number of years. Just at this time he is rolling the game of his life and will be a strong man with his team.

The match will consist of ten games, total pins to decide winners. Five of these games will be rolled on Friday night on the Gore alleys and the remaining five will be rolled at an early date at Wheeling.

WESTON HIGH WINS

WESTON, Oct. 23.—The Weston high school football team showed a reversal of form today and won from the Shinnston high school team by a score of 45 to 13. This was Weston's first victory of the season. Long runs by Piggans featured the game.

WESLEYAN WILL PLAY RED AND BLACK TEAM AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Instead of Union Park and Seats Will Be Moved Here from Wheeling.

After considerable negotiating on the parts of the parties concerned it has finally been decided that the big football game between West Virginia Wesleyan and Washington and Jefferson will be played on the West Virginia fair grounds instead of at Union Park as in former years. After determining this the Wesleyan management has proceeded with arrangements whereby it will ship here from Wheeling 2,000 seats for use in the game. The fair grounds grand stand is considered too far away from the field of play to attract the real football fans and to eliminate this objection to the new field for the football game, 1,000 seats will be erected on each side of the playing field that will be laid off in the quarter stretch.

When Wesleyan and Washington Jefferson played here in 1913, about 3,000 seats were available and the whole side and both ends of the field was crowded with spectators who could not be accommodated in the seats. This year 1,000 less seats will be available, but standing room for between 1,500 and 2,000 people will be available and although this total number does not approximate the number that witnessed the struggle here in 1913, still it is the best that can be done. In order partly to remedy this condition, an extensive advance sale will be conducted for the game. This sale will start five or six days in advance of the game and at it every one of the 2,000 seats will be located equidistant from the ends of the field and will be contained between the thirty-five yard line of one end of the playing field and the thirty yard line of the other end. These 2,000 seats, in addition to being the only ones available will be especially desirable on account of their location so near the center of the field and so close to the sidelines. Just what definite plan for the disposition of this limited number of seats will be made is not known, but it is expected that something will be done whereby a proper disposal of the entire lot may be made to those who are supporters of one or the other of the institutions involved.

The game itself has a great deal of promise. Washington and Jefferson played mediocre ball against Geneva and won by the rather wobbly score of 6-0, and did the same thing against West Virginia, securing a 6-6 tie. Then it came back strong and beat Lafayette 17-0 and Westmaster 34-0. Wesleyan has played three games of brilliant football to date and one mighty poor game and has scored 135 points to her opponents' twenty. On paper and in her one close game at home that with Catholic University, Wesleyan appears to have by all odds the best aggregation of footballers she has ever had. It seems, then, if Washington and Jefferson is as much reduced in strength as its record to date indicates, it will be in for the battle of its life when it comes to Clarksburg to meet the Ministers. It would certainly seem that if Wesleyan cares to be in the running as a favorite in its game with West Virginia University Thanksgiving that it must defeat Washington and Jefferson here November 13.

CHARGED WITH DRUNKENNESS

A man giving the name of Howard Wright was jailed Saturday night on a charge of drunkenness. His hearing was scheduled to come up at the Sunday morning session of police court. He was arrested in the East End by Officer Donahue.

WEST VIRGINIA HAS TWO EASY CONTESTS

During Next Two Weeks and Team Will Study New Plays for Big Game.

MORGANTOWN, Oct. 23.—With the big game with Washington and Lee out of the way and two comparatively easy games in sight, the tension which has existed in the West Virginia University football camp since the season opened, will be somewhat relaxed. Bethany College will be the next attraction on West Virginia's card, the Buffalo creek lads coming here next Saturday for the annual battle. To date Bethany has not shown anything wonderful in the way of strength, but it is a known fact here that Coach Farr has a great deal of hidden and undeveloped strength in his big squad. Naturally it will take some time to determine this strength and from all reports the former Indian coach has been accomplishing great things along this line in the last two weeks. Bethany has profited by several of its early season games and is due to give the Mountaineers a hard battle.

Last year West Virginia won an uphill fight against the up-state gridgers, 13-0, and a duplication of this sort of game is expected this year. Bethany has a hard plugging back in Elder and he is expected to give the Mountaineers considerable trouble. After Bethany comes Marshall College, which, up until the present time, has shown wonderful improvement from the beginning. The Marshall eleven has displayed unusual defensive qualities and under Foxy Chambers' tutelage the green and white can be expected to make masters of grave concern to the varsity. Whatever Chambers is doing right at this time is in preparation for the university and fans can expect a great game if strategy counts for anything. The varsity expects stiff opposition and will prepare for same.

Change Style of Play

There will be no end to preparations and development of the team the coming two weeks according to the coaches. New plays and formations will be added with regularity and the men will be kept in strict training as has been the case since the season opened. The men, however, will not naturally be on edge for the next two games like they have been since the middle of September and greater development in the way of perfecting a machine can be expected. The last week brought many changes in the style of play both on the offense and defense. It was an easy one so far as the men were concerned as only one scrimmage and a light one at that, was held. As a result there is not a man on the squad who is not in fairly good shape physically. Doughter is still hobbling around on a twisted ankle while King is still limping with a charley horse that attacked itself ten days ago. Harry Curry, halfback, was laid up for two days the first of the week suffering with a light attack of la grippe. He got back into harness Wednesday, however, and took part in the dummy scrimmage. King was held out of scrimmage for fear that he would be incapacitated for the Washington and Lee game.

New Men Look Good

Northcutt, of Huntington, jumped into the limelight during the week and as a result of his great work was placed on the training table. Northcutt recently developed a propensity for knocking men down coming out of his guard position in running for punts and he has been played on bringing the total score of the Mountaineers up to 8. The third quarter was scoreless, the Washington and Lee eleven showing more ginger in this quarter than at any other time in the game.

W. and J. "Scores." It was in the fourth that Washington and Lee "scored" its touchdown—or rather it was in this quarter that Referee Schwartz gave the Generals a touchdown. In the closing minute of the game came the play which caused Coach Metzger to call his men from the field.

Coach Metzger's action met with the full approval of every member of the West Virginia team; and a large majority of the crowd cheered lustily to demonstrate their approval of his act.

The summary and lineup:
West Virginia—8-2-0-0-8
